draping, exquisite construction and immaculate finish. Excessive detail has also been put into each piece to ensure that they remain timeless and unique.

According to Payal, the collection is 'for the woman of today who is multi-dimensional with her traditional values and modern lifestyle. She loves the old but lives the new.' ■

THIS MONTH

The Wills Fashion Week in Delhi may have been the hottest destination on the fashion calendar last month, but this month, the place to be is right here. The Singapore Fashion Week is slated for the 12th-21st of October and will feature an array of international and local designers including Pure Earth by Rashmi Gogna. Log on to www.singaporefashionweek.com.sg for more details.
